

KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION MEET AT LEXINGTON

The annual mid-winter business meeting of the Kentucky Press Association will be held in Lexington, December 29 and 30. This meeting will be a most important one, coming as it does on the eve of the session of the Kentucky Legislature. It is hoped to have enacted some legislation that will bring to Kentucky editors what those in other States enjoy. Vice-President C. B. Senff, of Mt. Sterling, will discuss "Needed Legislation," and has spent considerable time, money and energy in preparing the material for his address.

"The Business End of a Newspaper" will be discussed under four heads by editors who are well-posted and willing to give the benefit of their experience. The Department of Journalism of the University of Journalism of the Association designed to encourage uniform development of the best in the State press. This question will be taken up and acted upon at the Lexington meeting. The whole program is a splendid one and will command lively discussion.

GETTING HIM UP.

How to get Friend Husband up in the morning in a cheerful mood has long been a problem with the head of the house. The alarm clock shatters peaceful slumber and sends many a man to work with a grouch. A Boston housewife has solved the problem, or says she has. She wakes her husband by tickling his feet with a broomstick. This makes him start the day with a laugh. If he went to bed with a grouch she uses a feather.

Tickling soothes the nerves. An alarm clock or any other sudden noise irritates them. And good disposition is largely a matter of nerves.

PARIS GIRL CALLS ORGANIZATION MEETING

Miss Fannie Heller, of Paris, student at the University of Kentucky, presided at the recent meeting of representatives from seven college associations, held in Lexington for the purpose of organizing the Woman's Self-Government Association of Kentucky.

The institutions represented were Berea, Kentucky Wesleyan, Transylvania, Union College, Georgetown College, Kentucky College for Women, and the University of Kentucky. Miss Frances Jewell, Dean of Women, delivered the address of welcome, and President Frank L. McVey spoke on "Woman's Self-Government." Following this address discussion groups took up the honor system relating to student government to faculties and deans, and other matters and problems of the association.

OLD SOCK BANK

Last week the startling statement was made that money being withheld from circulation amounted to $275,000,000, or $2.75 per capita. Had this statement been made by any other person than the controller of the currency it would have been questioned, but coming from him it is undoubtedly correct.

What becomes of all the money? Where is it?

This is an interesting subject for speculation. It is certainly not in the pockets of the unemployed. It is probably not in the pockets of those who possess it, though some of it is likely to be in that old "sock" bank and much of it is locked up in strong boxes in bank vaults and elsewhere.

But, wherever it is, if this amount of money were put into circulation it would loosen up things. Prices would be lowered and employment would be furnished those who are now idle. Withdrawn from circulation, these two hundred and seventy-five million dollars are not earning any interest—they are absolutely of no benefit to anybody, and therefore as if they had never been coined and placed in circulation—void of any benefit in the affairs of the country.

FEAR AND HARD TIMES

Thos. A. Edison, the noted inventor, says the recent business depression was caused by fear. "The people have been frightened out of good times, unnecessarily so," he says.

Fear of the wolf makes people stop buying. Then business stagnates and hard times follow.

The pessimist is ruled by fear. Optimism has been defined as nothing but the absence of fear. Get rid of fear, be optimistic, and business will be good, according to Edison.

He is right. The same reasoning is true of every activity of men and women. Fear, the great paralyzer, is back of most failures. Conquer the devil of fear, develop confidence in your abilities, and you will succeed.

Barring remote instances of what may be called good luck, there can be no success without confidence and fearlessness.
